

HAPPY NEWS

WORLDWIDE

Your weekly round up of feel-good news from around the world!

Smile! - It's nearly International Day of Happiness

This Monday 20th March is the UN International Day of Happiness, recognised by over 160 countries around the world. This year's theme is: 'Be Mindful. Be Grateful. Be Kind.' What can you do to feel happy this Monday?

World's biggest mermaid swim celebrates diversity

The MerMagic Convention held in Manassas, USA is the world's largest meeting of mermaids. People - and mermaids - from all walks of life swim together to celebrate diversity. "Anybody -- any age, race, body type, disabled people, anyone - can be a mermaid," says mermaid, Merlot.

That's not rubbish! It's my house!

An artist in London has made a house from a rubbish skip to protest the 'crazy cost of living' in England's capital city. Harrison Marshall hopes his skip house will make people think about rising house prices. He will be living in the skip for a year.

Vaccine could save billions of honeybees

A vaccine for bees has been approved in the USA to protect them against a deadly disease. Bees are an important part of our environment and food chain. One out of every three mouthfuls of our food depends on pollinators such as bees!

Sheep protect historic ruins

Pompeii in Italy is the site of a volcano eruption from over 2000 years ago. The Roman city was buried under ash and preserved for hundreds of years. Now 150 sheep are helping to maintain the city's ruins by munching on the grass, saving the need for a gardener!

